DETAILED ACTION

Claims 67-86 are pending in this application and subject to restriction.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 67-72, drawn to a method of making an artificial mammalian chromosome, classified in class 435, subclass 455.
- II. Claims 73-77, 79-84 and 86, drawn to an artificial mammalian chromosome, vectors and cells comprising the artificial chromosome, classified in class 435, subclass 320.1.
- III. Claims 78 and 85, drawn to a method of expressing a gene of interest in a mammalian cell, classified in class 435, subclass 70.3.

The inventions are distinct each from the other because of the following reasons:

The methods of Groups I and III are biologically and functionally different and distinct from each other and thus one does not render the other obvious. The methods of Group I comprise steps that are not required for or are present in the methods of Groups III: the introduction of centromeric, telomeric or genomic DNA into cells. The methods of Group III comprise steps that are not required for or are present in the methods of Groups I: propagation of cells and expression of a gene of interest. The effects of the methods of Group I and III differ. The outcome of group I is an artificial mammalian cell which is unrelated to the outcome of Group III which comprises an expressed gene of interest. Thus the operation, function and effects of these different methods are different and distinct from each other. Therefore, the inventions of these different and distinct groups are capable of supporting separate patents.

The products of Group II and the methods of Group I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the artificial mammalian chromosome can be made by modification of existing endogenous chromatin.

The products of Group II and the methods of Group III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the artificial mammalian chromosome can be used as a source of probe DNA to be used in hybridization assays for chromatin structures.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provision of MPEP 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable produce will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendment submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirements for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 USC 101, 101, 103 and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See “Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claim in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 USC 103(b),” 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 USC 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP 804.01.

The searches required for the different groups are not coextensive. These inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art, Group I (435/455) versus Group II (435/320.1) versus Group III (435/70.3). Therefore, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1636

Applicant is reminded that upon cancellation of claims to a non-elected inventions, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
